

Music Marketing Inc Now Distributes Dreamtonics

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE - June 6, 2024

We are excited to announce that Music Marketing Inc is now the official distributor of Dreamtonics, specializing in the global distribution of their groundbreaking AI vocal music production software. As part of our collaboration, we are pleased to introduce their flagship product Synthesizer V as Dreamtonics' esteemed singing synthesizer.

Dreamtonics is a Tokyo-based startup specializing in electronic music and voice technology. They are a compact, multi-lingual team of experienced engineers who are also music lovers. Instead of building their product on top of conventional patterns, they began with the realization that music software can be made much better if given a deeper thought about how users will actually use the software.

Dreamtonics' cumulation of years of AI research, signal processing, and a passion for music has led to the development of Synthesizer V. Their pioneering synthesizer faithfully replicates the nuances of the human singing voice – without limiting your vocabulary. With access to customizable, realistic vocals at your fingertips, users can bring their ideas to life with this software when they have no vocalists for their audio tracks.

This strategic partnership aims to bring forth innovative tools to music creators and enthusiasts worldwide, with Music Marketing Inc's commitment to excellence and Dreamtonics' dedication to cutting-edge software solutions. We are confident that this collaboration will pave the way for exciting opportunities in the music industry and look forward to witnessing the remarkable impact of Synthesizer V on music creation.
